How We Work Together to Prevent CVL Infections

1. Why would your child receive a CVL?
   a. To receive treatment.
   b. To administer medication.
   c. To draw blood for lab tests.
   d. To reduce the number of medical visits required for your child's treatment.
   e. All of the above, purpose.

2. Which of the following best describes the cause of CVL bloodstream infections?
   a. CVL bloodstream infections are very serious infections that may cause death.
   b. CVL bloodstream infections are caused by an infection of the CVL line.
   c. CVL bloodstream infections are very serious infections that may cause death.
   d. CVL infections are caused by organisms that are present in the child's body.
   e. All of the above.

3. Which of the following best describes the cause of CVL infections?
   a. CVL infections are caused by organisms that are present in the child's body.
   b. CVL infections are caused by an infection of the CVL line.
   c. CVL infections are caused by organisms that are present in the child's body.
   d. CVL infections are caused by an infection of the CVL line.
   e. All of the above.

4. Which of the following is a cause of CVL infections?
   a. CVL infections are caused by an infection of the CVL line.
   b. CVL infections are caused by an infection of the CVL line.
   c. CVL infections are caused by organisms that are present in the child's body.
   d. CVL infections are caused by organisms that are present in the child's body.
   e. All of the above.

5. Which of the following are signs that your child's healthcare team can use to reduce your child's risk of developing a CVL infection?
   a. Nourish your child's skin and tissue with an antiseptic or antibiotic solution before drawing or inserting.
   b. Always wash hands before entering the room, and have the child's hands washed before the CVL is placed.
   c. Use a mask or a surgical mask when entering the room.
   d. All of the above.

6. Which of the following is a cause of CVL infections?
   a. CVL infections are caused by organisms that are present in the child's body.
   b. CVL infections are caused by an infection of the CVL line.
   c. CVL infections are caused by organisms that are present in the child's body.
   d. CVL infections are caused by an infection of the CVL line.
   e. All of the above.

7. Which of the following are signs that your child's healthcare team can use to reduce your child's risk of developing a CVL infection?
   a. Nourish your child's skin and tissue with an antiseptic or antibiotic solution before drawing or inserting.
   b. Always wash hands before entering the room, and have the child's hands washed before the CVL is placed.
   c. Use a mask or a surgical mask when entering the room.
   d. All of the above.

8. Which of the following are important ways you can help reduce the risk of your child developing a CVL infection?
   a. Always wash your hands before touching any objects in the room.
   b. Always wash your hands before touching any objects in the room.
   c. Use a mask or a surgical mask when entering the room.
   d. All of the above.

Post Quiz Feedback

1. Please rate on a scale from 1-10 how helpful this brochure was at providing information about your child's risk of developing a CVL infection and the ways that you and your child's healthcare team can reduce that risk (1 = least helpful, 5 = most helpful)
   1 2 3 4 5

2. Please rate on a scale from 1-5 whether you think this brochure, if handed out to families, can reduce the amount and/or risk of CVL infections in children on MSH at Connecticut Children's Medical Center? (1 = not at all, 5 = extremely helpful)
   1 2 3 4 5

3. Please rate on a scale from 1-5 whether you think this brochure, if handed out to families, can reduce the amount and/or risk of CVL infections in children on MSH at Connecticut Children's Medical Center? (1 = not at all, 5 = extremely helpful)
   1 2 3 4 5