The 4 positions to film

Supine position
- Please, turn on the camera when you take off your baby’s clothes in supine position.
- At this age, your baby can roll over very easily. Try to capture rolling over to both sides.
- From the feet and the side

Prone position
- Film your baby moving forward, this can be crawling or creeping.
- Try to film the transfer from sit to crawling.
- From the side

Sitting
- Film your baby while he/she is transferring to sit. Let it play with some toys in this position.
- Present a toy to your baby at both the left and the right side and out of reach, so he/she has to turn to reach for the toy.
- If your baby is able to transfer from sit into the crawling position, please film that.
- From the side

Standing
- Put some toys on the couch or the table. If your baby does not pull up to a standing position, help your baby on the feet.
- Encourage walking along the couch or table by replacing toys or making contact.
- Is your baby capable to transfer from a standing position to a sitting position? Try to capture this.
- If your baby is able to stand or walk without support, please film this.
- Playing in a squatted position without support is the final position to film.
- From the side
CHECKLIST 3

The baby is crawling and/or walking

This checklist can be used during filming. Don’t forget to watch the instruction video.

In this checklist you will find:

- The movements and positions we want you to capture on the home video.
- Tips to pay attention to, so your home video can be used to assess motor performance.

Please pay attention to:

General
- We will the assess motor skills of your baby, so let him/her move freely and try not to help with your hands.
- A good way to start the video is to film spontaneous movements of your baby; please don’t elicit movement with toys or sounds right away.
- During filming, make contact with your baby like you always do.
- The positions we ask you to film do not have to be filmed in the order displayed. Breaks can be taken if that’s desirable.
- If you make the home video with your smartphone, the phone has to be in a horizontal position.
- During filming, your baby should only be wearing a body suit.

Environment
- Try to film with the light source behind you.
- Make sure there is enough room for your baby to move around.

Duration and timing
- Make sure you have 10-15 minutes on tape. The maximum length of the home video is 30 minutes.
- When your baby is getting tired or discomforted, it is better to stop and start filming again another time.
